One day, you received a text message from an old friend. That friend was asking for a favour and you agreed. It's time to fly on your way. Your friend gave you some words of advice: "When your death comes to you, be sure that you die flying". You came to a wonderful and mysterious place. That place is Eagle Airfield. You asked the old man who owns this airfield for a job to earn money to get flying lessons and became a professional pilot. The old man, Mr. Derret, is not only your boss and your employer, he is also your trainer. He wants you to become one of the best pilots in the world. And your first mission is to destroy the enemy's airfield. You can use the gun on your ship to shoot a missile that will hit the main control tower. You can also use the shield that will protect your ship from getting shot. You may have a mission on your way, but you have to first prove yourself. Controls:

- Arrow Keys - Move the ship.
- Space Bar - The shield
- * The speed of your ship is the same as yours.

System Requirements For Xion:

An overview of the new releases: Linux: OS X: And finally, a list of bugs and enhancements fixed in the latest update: The Linux and Mac versions of Vampyr are now available on Steam. However, I did something crazy. I'm still unsure whether or not it was a good idea: even though I've tested the game on all platforms, it is still a complete, new, not-released-yet-in-public game.
