How to add more information? Currently the package has about 150 elements that all seem to represent some kind of hostname. A: Those hostnames are actually the device serial numbers of the multiple USB hard drives. The key is that you can read them even in the offline mode and also translate them into Human-Readable format. The same thing can be achieved by simply executing the following commands: `ffinfo -f %SC% -l` or `fextract -c %SC% -f %SC%` You could easily adapt the commands to get the information you want. `/* This file is part of the MOOSE framework
