Now the document seems different. You must use the search engine. Pdf Download How can I turn off that. I tried every trick in the book I could find. Bjorn: Had I not printed to pdf a to dos file to examine, this would make more sense to me. What seems to be happening, though, is that if you do search for a term it ends up jumping all over the place. Even if you enter just one word. Is there any way to disable that without uninstalling the search bar? Bbess. I am tired of trying to use a generic search engine and getting frustrated. While It won't work for everyone I think that the solution should be rather obvious. I do not know why I am not able to find it. Therefore, I have only one word, one value to search for, and the result is not what I expected. I thought that it would tell me all the words I need to enter and it will only display the ones that contain those words. I also tried to clear the filters (Ctrl +F) but it did not change anything. dwite 02-20-2018, 09:32 AM Mecanica De Fluidos Cengel 2 Edicion [En Espa±ol] Is there any way to turn off that. I tried every trick in the book I could find. There must be something better than deleting the cache of the browser. While It won't work for everyone I think that the solution should be rather obvious. I do not know why I am not able to find it. For me it is a workaround, trying to disable the page turning functionality. I am tired of trying to use a generic search engine and getting frustrated. While the one that I tried can only search for the full text you enter, you can "search for partial words" that you enter using the Search Bar menu. I do not know why you have to click the "Go" button, when you are working on a desktop or laptop screen. So I do not think it is a Windows issue. I also tried to clear the
