Download Xforce Keygen Autocad LT 64 BitThe present invention relates to a tool for drilling tubular holes, and, more particularly, to a multi-toothed tool for drilling tubular holes. The construction of a conventional pre-wired type outdoor lamp requires the use of a drilling tool for making holes in the insulating and protective sheet. In a typical application, an array of holes are made along a pre-wired circuit path. Typically, a machinist uses a conventional drill equipped with a number of different cutting bits for performing various portions of the drilling operation. In addition, in many applications it is necessary that the final hole have a predefined size, that the hole be coaxial with the drill, and that the shape of the hole be formed in a uniform configuration along the hole's circumferential surface. Several tools, or combinations of tools, have been used in the past for the purpose of drilling these holes. To drill the holes along the entire circumferential surface of the path, the bit mounted on the tool must be withdrawn and then reinserted along the desired path. This operation can be extremely time consuming, often requiring several passes along the entire surface of the path. Another option for drilling along an entire path is to use a plurality of drill bits mounted along a long shaft or rod, which extends substantially through the entire length of the path. As the shaft rotates, the bits are sequentially withdrawn from the hole. While this operation is effective, each time a new bit is withdrawn from the hole, a new hole is formed in the material disposed between the bit and the bit's support shaft. Accordingly, the hole being formed is progressively enlarged as bits are withdrawn from the path, thus creating a non-uniform hole having a larger size near the end of the path where the bits were inserted. This condition is particularly apparent where the final hole is intended to be circular in cross-section.Used Kia Motors South Africa for Sale Kia Motors South Africa, as a full-line dealership, offers a wide range of used Kia vehicles from our very own showroom.
