Herat is one of the important festivals of the Kashmiri Pandits and they celebrate it very well. The Kashmir bazaar brings Shivratri Puja (Vatak Puja - Herat.) - this is a very important event in the life of the pandits. And during these holidays, the pandits gather in a large hall and arrange various ceremonies there. They perform various dances and songs, and all the pandits and all who are not pandits participate in this, because they are considered members of their community. And these people gather in a large hall for two and a half or three months and celebrate the holiday. They sit in rows and make various preparations, and all the while the ceremony is going on.
