its an interesting approach.
while previous earbud designs have aimed to be unobtrusive merely by being small, they still generally go for basic white or black color schemes (with a few more outlandish choices from samsung).
jlab says that go air tones are designed to be discreet, blending in with the users ear to hide, if not entirely camouflage, the tech. according to the press release, jlabs customers were asking for a design that didnt draw attention to the fact that they were wearing headphones. the jetaudio 8.1.7 is a very smart media player software which has good
