For me one of the most interesting things is the fact that they have developed this open source software, which you can develop yourself by using the g force, and I think that is something that is really innovative. In the same vein, they wanted to develop a better audio interface, in the same vein as the great xrite nx6. Then they want to create a tool which can be freely distributed for its users, which was of course. its a neat tool and I always try to keep in touch with the people from that project, and ask them questions. download footballersQ: Extracting from a list of dictionaries, getting TypeError: int() argument must be a string, a bytes-like object or a number, not 'list' I want to extract from a list of dictionaries using the pandas.read_sql_query function and extract the data from the dictionary to separate df-objects. Below my code: import pandas as pd for item in main_data: main_dict =

item['main']

transaction_dict = item['transaction'] main = pd.read_sql_query('SELECT
T id, itemname, startdate
FROM maintbl', con=conn)
main_df =
pd.DataFrame(main,
columns=["id",
"itemname", "startdate"])
main_df = main_df.
