KeyMacro is a tool which makes the use of mouse buttons very easy and comfortable. It can be used as a key combo's macro. You can set up a macro for your mouse buttons to turn off your computer, open your Web browser or any other applications. KeyMacro is a simple tool that makes the use of mouse buttons very easy and comfortable. With KeyMacro you can do all your mouse button functions very easily and you can create your own mouse button macros. KeyMacro has a user friendly interface, which is very easy to use. Just type the commands that you want to execute in the KeyMacro window, and KeyMacro will do the rest. Features: - User friendly interface - Hundreds of mouse buttons macros - Save your commands for future use KeyMacro is the most popular tool among the newbie Mac users because it is the most flexible tool in this category. You can even create Mac OS 9 only macros! The best thing about KeyMacro is that it can run on any version of Mac OS (from Mac OS 8 up to the latest Mac OS X). It has only one drawback: it can only run on Mac OS X Tiger and Snow Leopard, because of the way it works. KeyMacro is the only tool which can add a dedicated mouse button to your Mac OS X. Other tools cannot do this. My PC is not working, and I'm not sure why. I'm thinking it's the virus program. I use Spyware Doctor to look for all kinds of problems. What do you recommend I do? Answer: I'd start with cleaning up the registry, which is basically like a file that tracks all kinds of things, and has to be regularly cleared out to prevent problems. You can download programs such as CCleaner and Registry Mechanic to help you clean up. Next, I'd run a virus scan and follow the prompts to remove any problems, including making sure that Windows XP is actually installed on the hard drive, and if it's not, re-installing it. It's a good idea to backup your hard drive regularly, so you have an emergency copy to use if things go wrong. For some older versions of Windows, you can do a quick and simple clean and repair. For XP, you can download the Windows XP Repair CD from Microsoft. You can use a program like Nero to burn the CD 2edc1e01e8
